introduction

With the information I have enquired and data I have analysed,cleaned the data and also created tables that will help the CEO with future business decisions.

insight:Revenue across all store store location categorised my Month.All stores were doing great during the months of May and june with the value above R10 000.

Revenue Analysis|Spend bucket

Insight:This is a Revenue by spend bucket from all three locations.Customers are buying products that are less that R50 in price,which I categorised them as low spenders.At all locations Low spenders are

Revenue Analysis|Time classification

nsight:The stores are making more sales during at night which after 6pm,with 49%.During rush hours the business is low and making less sales(14%)

Attached above os the pie chart of time of the day where all stores make most revenue

Revenue|product category

insight:

Coffee is the best product that is making most sales with the revenue above R1800 in all locations.Followed by Tea which is making >R1300 sales.

Unit Price|Product category

Insight:Bright coffee shop make more sales in Winter Seasons.Customers need Hot coffee and Tea  more during May and June. :

Insight:Saturdays and Fridays the shop makes more revenue

RECOMMENDATIONS.

1.Bright coffee Shop should consider buying more ingredients dor coffee and Tea.
2.The CEO should also consider opening early and closing late on Fridays and Saturdays because those are the days where the shops makes more money.
3.Having enought staff during Night hours in order to continue making more transactions during those hours
4.Discontinue products that making less than revenue and invest on products that are making more money.
